ANNUAL REPORT

C. N. CHAPTER, L.O.D.E.

Following is the annual report of Crows' Nest Chapter of the L.O.D.E. for year ending January 31st, 1932.
Officers—Hon. Regept, Mrs. P. M. Pinkney; first vice-hon. regent, Mrs. S. McKay; second vice-hon. regent, Mrs. E. Archer; regent, Mrs. W. Howe; first vice-regent, Mrs. Upton; second vice-regent, Mrs. Bjrd; secretary, Mrs. J. Patterson; treasurer, Mrs. E. Neville; ed. secretary, Mrs. Hannan; echoes secretary, Mrs. J. Pifford; standard bearer, Mrs. M. Bond.

There were ten regular, one executive and two special meetings held during the year, at which not only the splendid attendance, but the loyalty and co-operation of the members was extraordinary. Two new members joined the order. After each meeting, tea was served and a ten-cent collection taken, the money divided between relief and general funds. A "Rabbit Burn" tea, was held at the home of Mrs. P. M. Pinkney and the sum of $29 was realized. The B.E.S.L. and the L.O.D.E. donated poppies to the public school children on Remembrance Day. With the assistance of the Blairmore Branch B.E.S.L., a very successful Armistice dance was held, and the net proceeds of $60.78 given to the Chapter.

Nothing has been done so far to the Memorial, but it is hoped to do something in the near future. The Memorial fund contains $116.24.

In connection with education, a presentation of $5.00 and $2.00, respectively, to the two pupils of the school attaining highest and next highest standing for Grade VIII. In the June provincial departmental examinations was made. It has been decided to make this grant annually.

We were called upon for a donation of $25 towards prizes for local schools to help promote interest in Canadian history. The subject chosen was an essay on the C.P.R.

Owing to depression, the L.O.D.E. have been called on for more relief, such as clothing, groceries, tonics, bedding, glasses, etc. Lately we turned over to the local relief auxiliary all clothing held by us. Flowers have been given to sick members.

ST. PATRICK'S ENTERTAINMENT

A record house is promised for the annual entertainment being staged in the Columbus hall tonight and tomorrow night under the auspices of St. Anne's church.

As stated last week, the programme will feature a farce comedy in three acts, entitled "Helping Business." There will also be songs, dances, musical selections, etc., by local talent.

Sixteen-page programmes will be distributed to the audiences. These splendid programmes have been made possible through the generosity of local business men, whom you are urged to patronize.

The programme will be repeated at Pincher Creek on Tuesday next.

The Blairmore arena was closed for the season on Wednesday of this week, and Mr. Ringland, our ice man, returned to his home in Macleod last night.

According to an announcement made by General MacBrien, commissioner of the R.C.M.P., Superintendent Junget, for ten years officer commanding "K" division at Lethbridge, now ranks as assistant commissioner for the Maritimes.

FAREWELL TO SUPT.

AND MRS. JUNGET

Before leaving Lethbridge for their new home in Moncton, New Brunswick, Superintendent and Mrs. C. Junget were waited upon by members of "K" Division and presented with a beautiful silver tea service, accompanied by the following address:

Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Lethbridge, March 11, 1932.
Mrs. C. Junget:

The members of "K" Division, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, stationed at Lethbridge, wish to say to you upon your departure for Moncton, New Brunswick, that they could not under any circumstances let you leave Lethbridge without saying goodbye to you personally.

They wish to thank you and say that they appreciate the kindly interest that you have at all times manifested in their welfare, especially in their mess and also when anyone was sick or in any difficulty.

They hope that you will take kindly to your eastern surroundings, that you will not be too homesick and that you will be able to surround yourself with sociable friends whose hearts will beat as faithfully towards you as their own hearts do now. Kindly memories of you will be cherished while memories last.

We now ask you to accept this silver tea service, just to remind you of the days which you spent in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police barracks at Lethbridge, Alberta.

President of Biscuit Company Tells Success Story and What Consistent Advertising Will Do

A romance of modern business that should be an inspiration to every small store-keeper was told to news-papers today (Friday, February 26th) by Mr. C. R. Edmonds, President of Christie, Brown and Company, Limited, who is completing his fifty-sixth year of service with the company.

Mr. Edmonds, who can recall personally much of the rise of the Christie, Brown organization, told how the giant biscuit company was started in a small store on Yonge Street, Toronto, by two men with a working capital of probably not more than $500. Today the business they founded is capitalized at millions of dollars and is the largest industry of its type in Canada. It has two manufacturing plants in the East, another—the million dollar Winnipeg plant opened last week—in the West and thirteen distributing branches from Halifax to Vancouver.

The simple history of Christie, Brown and Company as told by the active veteran president is this: The business began in 1910 when two young men, James Mathers and Alexander Brown formed a partnership in a small store in Toronto to make biscuits. They had them with as assistant salesman, William Christie, who was destined to become a partner and eventually play an important part in Canada's biscuit making industry.

The biscuits sold from this small bakery became popular with a limited clientele and the business began to progress. Four years later Brown and Mathers retired and the business was handled by young William Christie. Mr. Brown, however, re-entered the company in 1921 and the name, Christie, Brown and Company, Limited was adopted.

Confederation of Canada in 1927 found the business firmly established as one of Canada's coming concerns. In 1927 and again in 1927 larger premises were necessary and it was symptomatic of the sales energy behind the organization that the first trans-Canada train had a Christie representative on board.

From that point the business has never looked back until today Christie Biscuits are known round the world. The original store in Toronto has been replaced by three factories, one occupying nearly a whole town block in Toronto, the second Toronto factory occupying many thousands of square feet of floor space and the third, the new Winnipeg plant, is acknowledged the finest biscuit factory on the continent.

The original plant turned out a very small variety of biscuits. Today over 500 lines are marketed. And here, according to Mr. Edmonds, is the real key to success in the Christie, Brown organization. It has consistently maintained a high standard of quality in its products and has advertised steadily in good times and bad, using newspapers from coast to coast, year in and year out.

JESUS DIES ON THE CROSS

Golden Text: "Christ died for our sins according to the Scriptures."

1. Corinthians 15:3.

Lesson: John 18:1 to 19:42.

Devotional Reading: Romans 5:1-8.

Explanations and Comments

The Trial of Jesus, verses 13-16—"We see the various actors in the drama—Caiaphas, Herod, Pilate—all falling into place, as at some mystic signal; each doing something that had to be done, each doing something dictated by the grossness of his nature, and that something for which he is answerable; but also doing something that was an unconscious fulfillment of a program; and Jesus Himself passing through all these scenes with the sublime steadfastness of one who knows that this must be. This is the joy of the cross. Jesus has not lost His way. He moves steadily to His goal. He is no victim of accident—at every step something was done that the will of God made necessary and inevitable."

On the Way To Calvary and Crucifixion, verses 17-18—"Roman soldiers threw a red cloak around Jesus, placed a crown of thorns upon His head in imitation of the laurel wreath worn by Roman emperors on festive occasions, and put a reed in His hand, as a mock scepter. They carried upon Him, struck Him, and jeered Him. When wearied of this sport they led Him away to be crucified. The procession started with a herald at the head bearing a board on which was written the Prisoner's 'crime'—Jesus of Nazareth, the King of the Jews. After Him came a contortion with four soldiers carrying nails and hammers. Then came Jesus bearing His cross, the two thieves with their crosses, the closely guarded Roman soldiers, and followed by a motley crowd of men and women, enemies and sympathizers with Jesus, priests and disciples.

Through the city gate they went. Soon Jesus' strength failed; He was unable to stagger along under His cross. The soldiers themselves would not carry it, meeting Simon Cyrene, they compelled him to carry it on to the hill called Golgotha, or Calvary. Mary the wife of Clopas, and Mary Magdalene—was Mary His mother.

"If I were hanged on the highest hill I know whose love would follow me still. Mother of mine."—Kipling.

Jesus looked upon His mother and John, and said to Mary, "Woman, behold thy son," and to John, "Behold, thy mother!"

The Death of Jesus, verses 29-30. Read here Matthew 27:45, 46; Mark 15:33, 34. John records Jesus' cry, "I thirst," and at another time writes, "that the scripture might be accomplished." This does not mean that Jesus uttered the cry so as to fulfill scripture, but that, as John, looked back upon the scene in later years he was aware he wrote, that it did fulfill scripture.

Near at hand was a vessel full of vinegar, the "poach," or wine, which was the usual drink of Roman soldiers. A sponge was fastened to the end of a branch of hyssop, filled with the vinegar, and held up for Him to drink. Jesus received it, and then exclaimed, "It is finished," as His head fell and His spirit left Him. Finished, in the sense of ended, were His sufferings, and finished, in the sense of completed, was the sacrificial offering. "It is a triumphant exclamation, meaning: 'God's will is obeyed; man's redemption is secured; immortal victory is won; Heaven is open to man; the gloom of the grave is changed to the glory of resurrection and ascension with Christ!'"

Prospectors Have Started Rush For Great Bear Lake Area

Six aeroplanes roared away from the airport headed for the mineral area of Great Bear Lake, 1,500 miles to the north. They formed the first of the anticipated spring rush to take from the wilderness its wealth of radium-bearing pitchblende and other minerals.

Five of the aeroplanes were chartered from the Canadian Airways, Limited, and one was owned by Spence McDonough Aviation Company.

British Art Exhibit

Exhibition Is Sponsored By the National Gallery of Canada

A comprehensive and representative exhibition comprising some of the best examples of contemporary British art, sponsored by the National Gallery of Canada, was officially opened by His Excellency the Earl of Beasborough, Governor-General of Canada. Arranged by the National Gallery, in co-operation with the director of the National Gallery of British Art in London, England, the exhibition has been collected for the purpose of acquainting the Canadian public with the work of present day English artists. After a month's showing here it will be sent to other Canadian cities.

Announcement was made that the Governor-General had consented to become honorary president of the National Gallery.

Perhaps the most marked feature of the exhibition is the wide diversity of style revealed by the individual paintings. Numbered among the 125 paintings which comprise the exhibition are examples of the work of practically every artist of importance now living in England.

There are outstanding pictures by Sir William Orpen, R.A.; Augustus John, R.A.; a self-portrait of Sir William Rothenstein, a fine example of the famous painter's work, Professor Henry Tonks, and many other artists of note.

Worthy Of Citizenship

Vancouver Man Has Spent Long Lifetime In Canada

Described by Judge J. N. Ellis as the liveliest man of 86 he had ever seen, Alvarez Rhody Haaburg, tailor, of Vancouver, was recommended for Canadian citizenship by his honor in naturalization court.

Haaburg, whose father was a Danish sailor and whose mother was a Danish sailor and whose father was a Danish sailor, remembered Halifax, Nova Scotia, before the advent of the steamship, according to answers made to the judge. He claimed 1834 for the year of his birth.

He left Halifax 77 years ago, has been a resident of British Columbia since 1888, and saw the first C.P.R. train pass through Port Moody.

The old man informed the judge that he had never been out of Canada more than 24 hours in that time.

GRACEFUL SLIMMING BIAS LINES—SO HELPFUL TOWARD SMARTNESS

One of the new smart ideas so thoroughly slimming is the bias seamed slip line. In today's model it's decidedly prominent, the front and the back, meeting at a nice depth at either side of the skirt. And you'll notice there are inverted plaits at either side. They give ample width and flare without detracting from the smart straight line of the dress.

It's an excellent model for the new sheer woollens that are now attracting so much attention in their new novelty weaves.

Rough crepe silk is also very smart for this lovely day dress. Style No. 950 is designed for sizes 16, 18, 20 years, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust. Size 38 requires 2½ yards of 54-inch material with ¾ yard of 54-inch contrasting.

Price of pattern 25 cents in stamps or coin (coin is preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

CHAPTER XIV.—Continued

"Don't look so blue! Claire's voice broke in upon her gloomy trend of thought. She was laughing, and Jean was conscious of a sudden uprush of admiration for the young girl's courage which could laugh even while it could not look forward. 'After all, there are compensations in life. You're one of them, Jean, as I've told you before! Now let's talk about something else.'"

Jean responded gladly enough, and presently Sir Adrian was temporarily forgotten in the little intimate half-hour of woman-talk which followed.

CHAPTER XV.

Lady Anne's Disclosure

"Well, have you enjoyed yourself?" enquired Lady Anne when Jean returned. "I suppose so, as you stayed to tea"—smiling.

"Oh, I had tea with Claire. Sir Adrian was away"—with a small grimace—"as we had quite a nice little time together. But, yes, madonna"—Jean had fallen into the use of the gracious little name which Blaise and Nick kept for their mother—"I really enjoyed myself very much. Judith was ever so much nicer than I expected."

"So now, I suppose, we shall all be side-tracked in favour of Burke and his sister?" put in Blaise, who had been listening quietly. There was a sharpness in his tones, as though the prospect did not please.

Jean smiled at him engagingly. "Of course you will," she replied. "I invariably side-track old friends when I get a chance."

"Oh, you'll get the chance right enough"—rather sulkily.

"Yes, I think I shall"—demurely. "Geoffrey has always been nice to me, and now Judith, too, has succumbed to my charms, and says she hopes we shall be good pals."

Tormarin rose, pushing back his chair with unnecessary violence. "I don't think I see Judith Craig extending her friendship to Glyn Peterson's daughter," he commented cynically.

An instant later the door banged behind him, and Lady Anne and Jean looked across at each other smiling, as women will when one of their mankind proceeds to behave exactly like a cross little boy.

But a quick sigh chased the smile from Lady Anne's lips.

"Poor old Blaise!" she murmured, as though to herself. Then, her grey eyes meeting Jean's squarely, she said quietly:

"Jean, you're so much one of us, now, that I should like you to know what lies at the back of things. You'd understand—some of us—better."

Jean turned impulsively.

"I don't need to understand you," she said quickly. "I love you."

"Thank you, my dear." Lady Anne's voice trembled slightly. "I'm not sure of that. I shouldn't tell you what I am going to. But I want you to understand Blaise—and to make allowances for him, if you can."

Jean pulled forward a stool and settled herself at Lady Anne's feet.

"Do you mean about the 'mark of the beast'?" she asked, smiling a little. "Blaise told me to ask you about it one day."

"Did he? He thinks far too much about it and what it stands for," said Lady Anne. "It's his hobby, and he has a symbol in his eyes. You see, he too has suffered from the family failing—the very failing that was responsible for that white lock of hair."

Lady Anne looked down at her thoughtfully.

"Well, there's no need for me to tell you that the Tormarins have no temptations! You've seen evidences of it in Blaise—that sudden flaming up of anger. Though he has learnt through one most bitter experience to hold himself more or less in check."

She paused a moment, as if her thoughts had reverted painfully to the past. Presently she resumed:—"All the Tormarin men have had it—that blazing uncontrollable kind of temper which simply cannot brook opposition. Blaise's father had it, and it was that which made our life together so unhappy."

So Destiny had been busy with her men here, too!" whispered Jean. "You—too," Lady Anne questioned.

"What does that mean?"

"Why, it seems to me as if 'no one' is ever allowed to be really happy and to live their life in peace! There is Judith, whose life my father spoiled, and Claire, whose life Sir Adrian spoiled—and that means Nick's life as well. And now—yours!"

Some unconscious instinct of reticence deep within her forbade the mention of Blaise Tormarin's name.

HER HUSBAND TEASED HER

But not for long!

"I started taking Kruschen Salts for biliousness, and for the last two years I have been perfectly free from an attack. Now I continue to take them, as I find they keep me in perfect health. My husband used to joke about me taking Kruschen Salts; now he takes them himself, so do my children. My sincere thanks."

—Mrs. G. P. P. When your gastric or digestive fluids refuse to flow, your food, instead of becoming absorbed into your system, simply collects and ferments inside you, producing harmful acids and gases which give rise to biliousness, heartburn and flatulence.

Kruschen is a combination of five mineral salts, which goes right to the root of the trouble. It first stimulates the flow of gastric and other juices to aid digestion, and then causes complete, regular and unflinching elimination of waste matter every day. And that means a blessed end to biliousness, and a renewed and whole-hearted enjoyment of your food without the slightest fear of having to pay the old painful penalty.

Jean—never think that I haven't. Afterwards, with Claude, I was utterly happy."

She felt silent for a space, ceasing at that quiet note of happiness. Presently, almost loth to disturb the reverie into which she had fallen, Jean questioned hesitantly:

"And the 'mark of the beast,' madonna? You were going to tell me about it."

"It came as a consequence of the Tormarin temper. That's why Blaise calls it the 'mark of the beast.' It was just before he was born—when I was waiting for the supreme joy of holding my first-born in my arms. Derrick—Blaise's father—was an extremely jealous-natured man. He hated to think that there had been anyone besides himself who cared for me. And there was one man, in particular, of whom he had always been foolishly jealous and suspicious. I can't imagine why, though."

"With a little more time, I should would think that the mere fact that I had married him, and not the other man, would have been sufficient proof that he had no cause for jealousy. But no! Men are queer creatures, and he always resented my friendship with John Lovett—which continued after my marriage. I had known John from childhood, and he was the truest friend a woman ever had!"

She sighed: "And I needed friends in those days! For somehow brooding over things to himself, my husband conceived an idea that the little son who was coming was not his own child—but the child of John Lovett. I think someone must have poisoned his mind. There was a certain woman of our acquaintance whom I always suspected; she hated me and was very much attached to Derrick—she had wanted to marry him, I believe. In any case, he came home one evening from her house like a madman, and there was a scene . . . a terrible scene . . . he hurled accusations at me . . . I won't talk of it, because he was bitterly repentant afterwards. As soon as the fit of rage was past, he realized how utterly groundless his suspicions had been, and I don't think he ever ceased to reproach himself. But that has always been the way! The Tormarins have invariably brought the bitterest self-reproach upon themselves. One way or another, the same story of blind, reckless anger, and its consequences, has repeated itself generation after generation."

"And then? What happened then?" asked Jean in low, shocked tones.

"I was very ill—so ill that they thought I should not live. But I did live, and I brought my baby into the world. Only he was born with that white lock of hair. And my own hair had turned perfectly white!"

Jean was silent for a little. At last she said softly:

"I'm so glad, madonna, that you were happy afterwards. 'Your house of dreams' came true in the end."

"Yes—Lady Anne's grey eyes were very bright and luminous. 'My house of dreams came true.'"

After a while, she went on quietly: "But my poor Blaise's house of dreams fell in ruins. The house was rotten. You know, didn't you that there was a woman he once cared for?"

Jean nodded. Speech was difficult to her just at that moment.

"It was a miserable business altogether. The girl, Nesta Freyne, was an Italian. Blaise met her when he was travelling in Italy, and—oh, well, it wasn't long before he knew as I know it, and as I think, one day, you too will know it. It blazed up, just one of those wild infatuations that sometimes spring into being between a man and woman, and almost before he had time to think, Blaise had married her."

"Married her!"

The words leapt from Jean's lips before she could check them. In the account of Tormarin's disastrous love affair which had been forced upon her hearing in London, there had been no mention of the word marriage, and she had always imagined that the woman, this Nesta Freyne, had simply lured him in favour of another man. Moreover, since she had been at Staple, nothing had been said to correct this impression, as, very naturally, the subject was one avoided by general consent.

THE WAYFARER

Only the wanderer knows How far the way may be

Beyond, where ocean flows, And on through a strange country;

How cold the eyes that gaze An instant in his own;

How vast the city's maze, How crowded, yet how lone!

Only the wanderer finds How known trails can bring Back some old road that winds

Through his remembering! Long though the way he fares, Restless, while years slip by, Still in old scenes he shares Under each alien sky.

Only the wanderer learns Of lures that never wane, When in the end he turns His steps toward home again.

Manitoba Income Tax

$400 Paid By Farmers To Provincial Treasury In 1931

Only 40 farmers in Manitoba paid income tax to the provincial government in 1931, according to a report by the tax commission tabled in the legislature. They paid just $400 into the provincial treasury.

In 1929, when Manitoba was prosperous after harvest of the previous fall's bumper crop, farmers contributed $4,300 to the province through income taxes, and in 1930 they paid $2,400.

While agriculture paid only $400 income tax last year, the total amount collected was $312,500. Close to 16,000 persons in Manitoba contributed to this amount.

Reduce the Acid

SICK stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated.

Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour. Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because it is harmless and neutralizes many times its volume in acid. For 50 years it stands as the standard remedy for indigestion and sour stomachs everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. The acid will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go, prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians in correcting excess acidity.

"This My Signature"

A certain city had an epidemic of house robberies in daytime. The police had that point on it. They knew the robber, his gang and their records. The crooks were all picked up and convicted. All because one of them had left his finger print.

Germs in Every Print

This is told to remind you that we all leave finger prints on everything we touch. Most of these prints are germs. We pick them up from others—by handshakes—by touching things they have touched. Then we convey them to the mouth, where they breed and so get into the system.

Life Extension Institute lists 27 diseases which may be conveyed in this way. The most common is a cold. A hand used to check a sneeze or a cough may convey germs to others.

We cannot escape these germs. Every handshake, every touch, conveys them. The best we can do is to remove the germs or render them harmless before they reach our food.

Lifebuoy Soap is made to do this. Millions of people, in all countries of the world, protect themselves in this way. Lifebuoy contains an antiseptic. Careful laboratory tests have proved that Lifebuoy removes germs of make them inactive.

"REFUSED"

The Editor of this paper would appreciate the frankness of any of its subscribers, who, knowing that the subscription to the paper is due, would call at the office or write to the editor explaining his desires regarding renewal, says Editor Wight of the Cardston News.

To receive a copy of the paper back from the post office with the label plastered with the word "Refused" means one of two things to every editor: Either he (the editor) is foolishly trusting people who he thought appreciated and wanted the paper, but who—upon being pressed for payment repudiates his obligation by such second-handed manner; or the person so refusing his paper lacks the mental courage to come in the office and explain his reasons or conditions which have forced the cancellation of his subscription.

The editor desires to send no papers to any person who does not want to subscribe to it, but in these hard times we have adopted the policy that subscribers are entitled to consideration, and a number of delinquent names (more than for many years) are being retained on our list, despite the fact that in some cases, even after notices of subscriptions due have been sent, no response has been received from the subscribers. If you want the paper we are willing to co-operate. If you don't want to run up a bill when you can't see your way just now to pay, all we ask is that you come to the office and explain.

HARDY WESTERN HIKER
STROLLS 3800 MILES

Harry E. Sherman, the hardy Vancouver hiker who set out for Vancouver on June 13, 1931, returned to the Manitoba capital last week after covering more than 3800 miles on foot. Sherman walked the 1879 miles to Vancouver in forty-nine and a half days, but severe weather conditions and tired muscles slowed him considerably on the return journey which occupied five months. From Vancouver, Sherman followed the main line of the Canadian National Railway, spending considerable time in Jasper National Park in the heart of the Rockies. He intends to spend the coming summer in the vast government park, where he will take photographs and moving pictures. The sturdy hiker walked from Vancouver under the auspices of the Canadian National and Canadian National Steamships branch, Number 111, of the Canadian Legion. Enroute he gave short educational addresses at 505 schools.

RICH GOLD DEPOSIT
AT THREE DUCK LAKE

What is probably the richest surface showing of gold bearing ore discovered in recent years has been uncovered during the past few weeks at Three Duck Lake, which lies in northern Ontario, just west of Makwa station, on the main line of the Canadian National Railways. Samples of ore, shipped out for assay by the Canadian Government Department of Mines and by other assayers, run from $100 to $114 to a ton. The richness of the ore is emphasized by the fact that average gold content of the famous Porcupine area is less than $10 a ton. According to the Natural Resources Department the present ore body occurs in a belt of sedimentary rocks of pre-Huronian age, the geology of the district being very similar to that encountered at Kirkland Lake and other important gold areas of the Dominion.

ON ADVERTISING

Lord Duns made a number of characteristic remarks on advertising recently.

"Samson," he declared, "got some wonderful advertising results when he took two columns and certainly brought down the house."

"If you do not advertise you fossilize. A man upon his trade relies. He must either trust or advertise."

"Some people are always looking for a new kind of mistake to make."

"Success is merely a matter of buying your experience cheap and selling it at a profit."

"We are gradually and surely moving along to better times. If we will say that off to the past and coats off in the future, and add up to it, all will come right."—Karl'sopas Sentinel.

ISNT IT SO?

A discontented farmer wished, if possible, to trade his farm for a more desirable one, and accordingly listed it with a real estate agency. A few days afterward he read in a newspaper the advertisement of it prepared by the agency. It described in glowing terms the many charms, comforts, conveniences and advantages of the place. Three times the old farmer read the ad, then he called in his wife and had her read it to him. Then he seized the telephone and called up the real estate office. "Say, cancel that ad about my farm," he shouted. "I've decided not to sell it. That's the kind of place I've been wanting for years, and dog my cats, I didn't know I had it."

If many of us could see our jobs and our lives and our possessions as other see them, perhaps, like the farmer, we shouldn't be so "all-fired" anxious to "swap" them for something we fancy would be better.—Chilliwack Progress.

Keen rivalry exists between Niagara Falls, in Canada, and her taller, but less majestic sister, Kaieteur Falls in British Guiana. RELATION OF WOLF
CUB PACK TO BOY
SCOUT MOVEMENT

The Wolf Cub Pack is designed to be a junior branch of the Scout movement, in order to meet the eagerness of a large number of small boys, who want to be scouts and who are as yet too young. Boys of the ages from eight to twelve years cannot be put to the same tasks and tests as the older boys, especially in the company of the older boys, as they are likely to overdo themselves in the effort to keep up to the mark. At the same time, what the younger boys require in the form of training is totally different to that required for older boys of say 12 to 18 years. Hence, the line of demarcation at twelve years as the most suitable.

Wolf Cub training is different from, but a step towards that of the scouts. No boy's character is firmly set at twelve years of age. The work in the Cub Pack really leads to that of the Boy Scouts troop. A normal Wolf Cub Pack is not a separate organization, but part of a scout troop and work in close cooperation with the Scouts, and the "pack" may be said to be an ante-room to the Scouts.

The method of training is to educate from within, rather than to instruct from without—to offer games and activities, which, while being attractive to the small boy, will seriously educate him morally, mentally and physically. The aim is to promote, not so much the acquisition of knowledge as the desire and capacity for acquiring knowledge.

Wise Plato long ago said: "There is innate good in every child, and the aim of education should be to develop these natural instincts of virtue through suitable practices, no mention of reading, writing and arithmetic as essentials, but of enlarging the natural instincts, i.e. character, by practices, not merely by precepts."

The average boy (if there is such a thing as an average boy) does not want to sit down and passively receive theoretical instructions. He wants to be up and actually doing things in practice, and this is a good asset to any teacher, who will readily avail himself of the instrument. The first step then, is to study the boy himself—to recognize his likes and dislikes, his good qualities and his bad, and to direct his training on these.

The second item to recognize, although as a point it is of first importance, is that the boy of eight to ten is psychologically quite different from the boy of eleven to fifteen; not that the change comes about abruptly in the tenth year, but the younger boy is growing relatively in mind and body more rapidly than the older one, and transition gradually comes about approximately at those ages in the average boy.

Psychological phases: Six to eight years, dramatic instinct and make-believe; eight to eleven, self-assertive individuality and rivalry; eleven to fifteen, hero worship and co-operative loyalty. It may be taken for granted, then, that boys of the Wolf Cub age have the following propensities: to lie, to be selfish, to be cruel, and to be bontastic or pharisaical; but it must be at once recognized that these attributes are not born of malicious design—they are rather the natural outcome of the peculiar attitude of mind at that age.

It has been recognized that, while the elder boy, of Scout age, is full of hero worship and eagerness to work in a gang, under a good leader, and in competition with other gangs, specially in chivalrous service, the younger boy, just emerging from childhood, is more of an individual, feeling his feet, as it were—more self-centred, for the first time trying to do things himself and make things, and the moment that he achieves a step of any kind, he is prone to "show off". He is only just out of the age of toys, and is still very much in the land of make-believe; he is eager to have, but not to give; he is at the most mouldable period of his life. Thus there are many seeds of evil beginning to sprout into plant tendrils, ready to trail off in wrong directions, but easily taken in hand and trained aright. Hence, the age of twelve is one in which the line of demarcation may be said to be more pronounced, and, perhaps, special intercourse between boys below this age with those above may tend to unfold and destroy the good qualities of the younger in his ambition to achieve a level line with his older comrades.

With these facts plainly before us, we endeavor to surmount the ambitions of the younger boys by forming the ante-room to the Scouts, the Wolf Cubs, where the energies may be used up and applied to the making of a more efficient Scout, a boy whose honor is to be trusted, is prepared for anything at all times, a worthy citizen of our great country and empire.—Scout.

Local and General Items

G. E. Weir, inspector under the Sales Tax Act, was in town during the week.

The Blainmore Bears won over the Lethbridge Kissmen 1-0 on Saturday night.

Regardless of how the world has speeded up, it still takes three minutes to boil an egg.

When a local teacher asked her class what was the national air of Italy, a little boy replied: "Garlic".

Rev. Dr. J. T. Foley, editor of the Catholic Record, died at London, Ontario, on March the 5th, aged sixty-nine years.

N. A. Wallinger, aged sixty-seven, will quit the job of government agent at Cranbrook the end of this month, retiring on pension.

The C.P.R. steam shovel gang are loading rock from the Frank Slide, preparatory to coping with threatened high water along the line.

Last week's Canada Gazette contained an order-in-council, by which radio receiving licenses are increased from one to two dollars per annum.

Betty Gow, the Lindeberg baby's nurse, is believed to have worked as a domestic servant at New Glasgow, Nova Scotia, eight years ago.

If government anticipations are realized, the present session of the Alberta legislature will be prorogued on March the 24th, in order that members may be home for Easter.

The wife of a famous English bishop—who we shall call John Smith—was recently very ill and required a serious operation. As she recovered from the anaesthetic, she was heard to murmur: "Am I in heaven? Am I in heaven? No, there's John!"

Merchants need newspaper advertising this year, as probably never before, to sell goods and make a profit. People always spend more freely in a town where the merchants advertise freely in their local newspaper. Advertising is seed sowing. It will grow if it is given a chance to grow. Folk must be asked.

One of the most disgusting economic spectacles in Western Canada right now is the coal miners strike at Blainmore and other points in the Pass. Through insubordination a man was laid off. The miners demanded his reinstatement. The operators agreed, providing the man would apologize. This he refused to do. Now, since the agreement expires with the miners the first of April, both sides are out to make the most of the situation. But in times like these it seems a shame for any industry to be tied up in a labor dispute.—Chesholm Local Press.

Kimberley, with all its drawbacks, is the bright star in the mining world today. It is providing fairly steady work for its army of employees and is the main source of metal for the Trail smelter, about ninety per cent of the huge tonnage passing through Trail coming from the Kimberley mine. Nature has been wonderfully kind to this section in the matter of metals. The output at Kimberley will last longer than the life of any individual now a resident, unless someone happens to live to be about two hundred years of age, which, in these days, is hardly likely.—Kimberley Courier.

In the Alberta legislature last week, George H. Webster, Liberal leader, attacked the expenditures from the pool trust funds from year to year in no measured tones. He declared that far too much had been spent on travelling expenses, and that none of the money had been used in the interests of agriculture. He quoted figures, showing that large sums had been paid to various co-operative associations. "It was a wrong principle," he declared, "to make grants to associations which were losing money in order that they might compete against men who had been successful in building up big businesses of their own."

Captain Hardy, Lethbridge, fire chief, died on Wednesday last.

Dr. and Mrs. O'Hagan have returned home to Jasper, after a holiday spent in eastern Canada.

The programme for the 1932 Crows' Nest Pass Musical Festival is being executed at The Enterprise office this week.

Sergt-Major Hannah has been transferred from Fernie to Montreal, where he will assume his new duties with the mounted police.

Newfoundland's new income tax scheme requires six per cent up to six thousand dollars and twelve per cent over that amount.

George Eastman, multi-millionaire kodak manufacturer, shot and killed himself at Rochester on Monday, leaving a note, reading: "My work is done. Why wait?"

Mrs. Willis and her youthful son, of the Cochrane district, have been found guilty on at least four charges of robbery while armed. The former was sentenced to five years and twenty-five lashes, while his mother received a three-year penal term.

Mrs. Rose Callan, proprietor of the Belvoir Lodge apartment house in Calgary, is at present in Vancouver, where she proceeded upon receipt of news that her son Pat was in hospital suffering from injuries sustained in an automobile accident.

The flag at the local telephone exchange was flown at half-mast on Thursday and Friday of last week, as a tribute of respect to the late W. Frost, commercial superintendent of Alberta government telephones, who passed away while on an official visit to Magrath.

Scottish bachelors had better be careful this leap year. Several hundred years ago the Scottish parliament passed an act imposing severe penalties on any bachelor who refused a proposal in leap year. The act has never been repealed. The leap year idea is said to have originated in Scotland.

Canadian Pacific Railway hotels at Banff and Lake Louise will open for the summer two weeks later than usual this year, but will close on the usual dates, it is announced. The Banff Springs hotel and Lake Louise chalet will start to receive guests on May the 28th and June 15th, respectively, and close on September 26 and 15.

Peter Veregin, Doukhobor leader, was arraigned in court at Yorkton Saturday night on two charges of perjury and was remanded until March 29 for preliminary hearing. He was released on $10,000 bail. Nick Morozoff, Yorkton, arrested at the same time as Veregin on a similar charge, was remanded until March 18 and released on $5,000 bail.

Election of officers at the recent meeting of the Crows' Nest Pass Trustees Association resulted as follows: president, W. H. Chappell, Blainmore; vice-presidents, W. J. Cole, Bellevue; P. Haggerty, Hillcrest; and James Allan, Coleman; secretary-treasurer, A. J. Kelly, Blainmore. The next annual convention is to be held in Blainmore in March, 1933. Owing to limited time the meeting had to adjourn to meet again on March 29th to complete the programme.

Quick Thinking

"Hello! Hello! Is this you, Mac?"
"Aye."
"Is this Mac MacPherson I'm talking to?"
"Aye; aye kin."
"Well, Mac, it's like this; I want to borrow fifty dollars."
"All right. I'll tell him as soon as he comes in."

Father (to daughter at end of term): "Well Patsy, what results have we this term?"
Patsy: "Not so bad, dad. I'm next to the top girl when we stand round in a circle."

THE BEST MEDIUM

A comparison between the effectiveness of daily newspaper advertising as compared with other forms of publicity is contained at a special exhibit at the advertising exposition at the Mount Royal hotel, Montreal. The claim is made that advertising must be the basis of any successful sales campaign in Canada.

The newspaper case is founded on four premises: the universal appeal of the newspaper, which enters the intimacy of the home and is read by all members of the family; its immediate appearance and impulse to immediate action; the frequency of the newspaper's appearance and its localized circulation, that is, its closeness to the place of purchase. Advertising may be extended by zones progressively, and seasonal variation may be taken into account by the advertiser, whereas he would be unable to do this in a more static form of publicity.

SARCASM IN BUSINESS

To meet some of the unreasonable phases of modern business, a tit-for-tat method in the way of biting sarcasm may have a salutary effect.

It seems that a printer somewhere down in Texas got slightly peeved at a letter from a doctor who wanted bids on several thousand letterheads and statements, different sizes, different grades and paper and printed in various colors; with the request that the forms be kept standing for possible reprint orders.

So Mr. Printer diagnosed the case carefully and answered something in this manner:

"Am in the market for bids on one operation for appendicitis—one, two, and five-inch incision, with and without nurse. If appendix is found to be sound, want quotations to include putting same back and cancelling order. If removed, successful bidder is expected to hold incision open for about sixty days, as I expect to be in the market for an operation for gall stones at that time and want to save the cost of cutting."—The Gablegram.

SCHOOLBOY HOWLERS

2. Aristocrats are people who perform on the stage.
3. A sextant is a man who digs graves.
4. Herring travel in the sea in shawls.
5. The highest mountain in Europe is Blanc Mange.
6. The Gulf Stream is composed of warm currants.
7. Cereals are stories which last several weeks.

10. Barbarians are things used to make bicycles run smoothly.
11. An epigram is what we say after a man's death, about him.
12. Mandolins are high Chinese officials.
13. All Baba means that you're somewhere else when you committed the crime.—The Imperial Life Guard.

Anderson: "What's that in your pocket?"

Morgan (in a whisper): "Dynamite. I'm waiting for Peressini. Every time he meets me he slaps me on the chest and breaks my pipe. Next time he does it he'll blow his hand off."

Olson: "I simply cannot stand the sound of an auto horn."

Manson: "Why not?"
Olson: "Some months ago my chauffeur stole my car and eloped with my wife, and every time I hear a horn, I think he is bringing her back."

Old Lady (whose car has collided with a tramp): "Poor man! Have you a wife?"

Tramp: "No, this is the worst thing that has ever happened to me."

PARTY PLANS SKI TRIP
ACROSS BIG ICEFIELD

With the intention of crossing the Rockies on skis, from Jasper to Banff, by way of the Columbia icefield, four men are now in training in Jasper National Park. The party, the first group of tourists ever to undertake such an extended winter expedition in the Rockies, consists of Russel H. Bennett and Henry S. Kingman, well-known mountaineers of Minneapolis, Minn., and Clifford White, of Banff. The guide will be J. A. Weiss, of Jasper, who is well known to summer visitors to Jasper Park Lodge, and who has done much to exploit the northern Rockies as a skiing country. The skiers will follow the summer trail to Maligne Lake, and proceed the 18 or 20 miles to the head of the lake, from where they will follow Coronet Creek to the foot of Mount Harry McLeod glacier. The next day will bring the four men over the mighty McLeod glacier to Pooktan Creek and Waterfalls cabin, thence up the slopes of Pooktan Pass, to drop down to the cabin at Brazeau Lake. Nigel Pass will lead them to Camp Parker, on the north forks of the Saskatchewan River.

OLYMPIC HOCKEY CHAMPIONS
ACCORDED GREAT WELCOME

In the wildest welcome ever accorded a triumphant sports organization in the west, thousands of Winnipeg's most rational citizens forgot decorum as they tossed hats in the air, thumped each other on the back and shouted themselves hoarse in honor of the Olympic hockey champions, the Winnipeggers. Following the arrival of the champions over Canadian National Railways from Port Arthur, where they played the final game of their barnstorming tour, local fans stampeded through the streets to shout congratulations to the hockey heroes who rode triumphantly in the centre of a monster parade of gaily decorated floats. It was five weeks almost to the hour, since the Winnipeggers left for Lake Placid in search of world's amateur hockey honors. Automobile horns and sirens blended to drown the martial blare of five bands as the parade wound through the crowded streets from the Canadian National depot to the Amphitheatre rink, where the official reception was staged. A feature of the ceremony was the presentation to each member of the victorious team of a handsome monument, in the form of a buffalo, Manitoba's emblem, imposed on two marble sections bearing the seals of the city and the province in gold.

PROVERBS OF FRANCE

The tongue of a woman is her sword, which she seldom lets rust.

The great only seem to us great because we are on our knees; let us arise!

A beautiful woman is never without wit; she has the wit to be beautiful.

If you would live happy, live without a master.

Take men by their passions, and you may carry them whither you please.

Victorious without merit and victorious without crime.

Handsome, good, rich and wise is a woman, four stories high.

Patience is bitter, but its fruit is sweet.

Live according to nature—by patient and diamas, the doctors.

Ever the great storm comes at harvest time.

The spoken word belongs half to him who speaks, and half to him who hears.

"Hey, you!" growled a policeman.

"I've had my eyes on you for a long time. What are you following that lady around like a lost pup for?"

"It's the only way I can," said the meek little man. "She's my wife."

"This fire extinguisher, madam, will last for forty years."

"I shan't be here all that time."

"But when you go you can take it with you."

He: "She has quite a large repertoire, hasn't she?"

She: "Yes, and that dress she's wearing makes it look all the worse."

Prim Lady: "Why are those trees bending over so far?"

Farmer: "You would bend over, too, if you were as full of green apples as these trees are!"

She: "If you tell a man anything, it goes in one ear and out the other."

He: "And if you tell a woman anything, it goes in at both ears and out of her mouth."

"Did you see little boy, how he ate the party?" asked Mrs. Brown.

"I think so," sighed the little boy's mother. "He wasn't hungry again till half-past three the next afternoon!"

An Embarrassing Question

Preacher—"Dat's as fine a goose as I ever see, Bruddah Williams. Whar did yo' git such a fine goose?"

Mose—"Well now, pashon, when yo' preach a speshul sermon, I never axes yo' whar yo' got it. I hopes yo' will show me de same consideration."

The candidate was relating some of his experiences in the House, extolling the work of his party to the audience. "And now, ladies and gentlemen, I am going to tax your memory—"

"Great snakes! Has it come to that yet," interrupted a voice from the rear of the hall.

Mrs. Jones was describing her husband's thrilling escape during a fire. "My husband was trapped in an upper room!" she exclaimed excitedly. "And he had to escape down the water-pipe."

"Dear me!" murmured one of her listeners. "How thin the poor man must be!"

Sunday School Teacher: "Now, boys, there is a wonderful example in the life of the ant. Every day the ant is busy, and in the end what happens?"

Willie: "Someone steps on him."

It was the first time the dear old soul had been outside her native village. After she had been in the car for an hour or so she turned to the driver and touched him on the shoulder.

"Dear me!" she exclaimed. "What a wealthy man Mr. Garage must be—that must make the hundredth shop of his we've passed."

"Will you watch tell the time?"

"No, you have to look at it."

Mother: "Did you notice if the butcher had pigs' feet this morning, Susie?"

Susie (who has been shopping): "I couldn't see—he had his boots on."

Aberdeen Lady (to schoolmaster):

"I've come to see if you'd teach my boy Latin."

Schoolmaster: "I shall be delighted, but why Latin, that is one of the dead languages?"

Aberdeen Lady: "I ken that. You see he's to be an undertaker like his father!"

"I want half a pound of cheese, a quarter of lard, two lemons, and three eggs," said the little girl. "How much will that be?"

"One-and-sixpence, please," replied the grocer's assistant.

"Well, I'll bring you in half-a-crown tomorrow, but can you give me the shilling change now as mother wants it for the gas?"

An Aberdonian who knew a Glasgow man, and who heard that he was getting married, thought he would like to show his friendliness by sending a marriage present. The Glasgow man was a pigeon-fancier, and so the Aberdonian thought a pair of pigeons would make a splendid present. Being an Aberdonian, he sent a pair of homers. The Glasgow man wrote to him: "Dear Jock, they tasted fine."

Farmer Giles, who was taking a pig to market, stopped at an inn for some refreshments. Coming out, a small boy accosted him: "Is that your pork outside, sir?" he asked.

The farmer started. "Is that my pig you mean," he corrected.

"It was, sir, but a car has just run over it."

"Do you want gas?" asked the dentist as he placed the patient in the chair.

"Yes," said the absent-minded professor. "About five gallons—and take a look at the oil."

A Scotman had the misfortune to lose his wife and a cow on the same day. Some time after some of his friends offered to get him another wife. "Ye're a' awful anxious to get me another wife," he replied, "but nane o' ye ever thinks o' offerin' me another cow!"

Johnnie (to mother whose maiden name was Lizzie Smith): "I say, Mither—ye never told me ye had a middle name."

Mother: "A middle name, laddie, what makes ye say that?"

Johnnie: "I saw your initials in the towels, L.M.S."

NATIONAL SHOW FINDS HOME

The National Motor Show of Canada, held in Toronto March 5th to 12th, is the forerunner of an annual national show, according to D. R. Grossman, president of the Canadian Automobile Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Grossman points out that Toronto, with its special automotive building at the exhibitions grounds, has the only structure in any city in the Dominion which provides adequate accommodation for a National Motor Show and also that Toronto is the centre of automotive distribution in Canada. It is understood that all car manufacturers doing business in the Dominion will exhibit at future shows at they are doing this year in Toronto.

NEW SIGN FOR HIGHWAYS

The province of Ontario, first to inaugurate the famous "King's Highway" signs for the direction of tourists, is now leading the way with another type of informative sign. This new sign, according to an official of the government at Toronto, will be posted on the main highways outside of the important towns and cities. It will tell the name of the next town enroute and the distance which must be traversed to reach it.

Teachers' salaries at Fernie are to be cut 15%, as from September 1st next.

An exchange remarks: Black eyes are beautiful only when given by Nature. And still it's considered only natural to expect a black eye when you offend another human being—and often beautiful at that.

Few of us knew it, but a scout of the Detroit Falcons paid this city a visit last week on his way through the Pass on a little sizing up tour. He took a special interest in the juniors and stated to one man that if a real good coach was available for the youngsters, they'd make a name for themselves in a very short time. —Lethbridge Herald.

The Problem Of Debt

The one question, above all others in importance, that is engaging the attention of the people of Western Canada, and of the farming class in particular, is as to how they are going to pay their accumulated burden of debt. As a result of drought conditions extending over two and three years with partial or complete crop failures, and with prevailing world prices for such crops, live stock, dairy and poultry products as they did produce below the actual cost of production, tens of thousands of farmers have been forced to use all the reserves they may have had, and have gone deeply into debt.

They find themselves in the position, where, having purchased land and equipment during the war years, and in the post-war period when high prices prevailed, and when wheat sold around $1.50 to $2.00 a bushel, they are now being required to pay these inflated obligations with wheat at 50 cents a bushel, and in thousands of instances with no wheat at all to sell. Instead, therefore, of being able to gradually get out of debt, they are themselves getting deeper and deeper into debt, with little or no prospect of ever being able in their lifetime to get free of it.

Consequently, the relationship of themselves to their various creditors, the appalling interest payments confronting them, the practical impossibility of meeting their obligations, and the alternative possibility of losing their homes, constitutes a veritable nightmare of worry. They feel themselves confronted with the probability that, in the event of harvesting a good, or even fair crop, this fall, their creditors will swoop down on them and gobble everything up, thus leaving them in their present predicament of having nothing wherewith to maintain their families in decency and comfort and "carry on."

So, inevitably and naturally, everybody is seeking for a solution, and suggestions without number are being advanced. Many, of course, are utterly impracticable; others are economically unsound and would ultimately result in intensifying the difficulty rather than solving it; others, again, offer some hope.

It will be recalled that, following the war, Germany adopted policies which resulted in converting hundreds of millions of marks issued during the war to its own people into so many worthless pieces of paper. France deliberately depreciated its own currency, the franc, to such a low figure as to accomplish the same result. In its present financial emergency, Great Britain went off the gold standard, and its money took a tremendous drop in value almost overnight. Now the United States, also faced with a financial emergency, has gone in for "inflation" of its currency, or "reflation," as they are now pleased to term it, with a view to thawing out its huge amounts of frozen credits, and to put a larger supply of currency in circulation. All these expedients have a temporary effect, but the fact remains—it is an economic truth—that if anything is inflated it must sooner or later be deflated again. In the end there must be a "writing down" or a "writing off" of liabilities beyond the ability of the debtor to pay.

Sooner or later some portion of the indebtedness of thousands of Western farmers must be written off, and the sooner the better for an concerned. A merchant is forced into bankruptcy, and pays fifty cents on the dollar. He is then free to make a new start, albeit his credit will not be as good as before. If a mortgage or loan company forecloses on a farm property and takes it over, it must ultimately re-sell that farm to some one else. It is almost certain that it will have to take a loss, selling the farm for less than the original liability against it. Would it not, then, be good business on the part of such loan or mortgage company, to take the same loss, or even a somewhat larger one, right now, by consenting to a writing down the present farmer's liability to a point where he has a chance to "carry on" and pay? The property would thus once again become revenue producing to the company, although not perhaps to the extent originally expected. Nevertheless the company conceivably might otherwise have the land on its hands for some time, a bill of expense for taxes, etc.—Surely, it would be better business to keep the present owner on the land in a position where he can add his mite to the general productivity and prosperity of the country.

One suggestion that is receiving increasing attention and support is that existing farm debts should be capitalized and amortized, that is, that payments of equal annual installments covering both principal and interest spread over a term of years, 15, 20, 25 or 30 years, should be agreed upon. Surely, such a plan can be worked out without undue loss to anybody, and in such a manner as to ensure tenure of their homes to present occupants and an opportunity to ultimately free themselves of debt.

Unless something of the kind is done, it is almost a certainty that many Western farms will either be abandoned, or will pass through foreclosure proceedings, from their present owners and possibly remain idle in the hands of loan and mortgage companies, or as tax sale properties held by municipalities, for a goodly number of years to come, thus seriously retarding the production and development of the country, and imposing a check upon the prosperity of all individuals, corporations and governments alike.

Would Purchase Large Farm

Inquiry For Land Is Received By Prince Albert Board of Trade

Two young married men with the highest possible academic education in agriculture obtainable in Europe, may be established on a 2,000 or 3,000 acre farm in northern Saskatchewan, if suitable land is available.

They are desirous of immigrating to Canada and engaging in farming. Their brother, Dr. Alex. C. Rab, of Dayton, Ohio, stated in a letter received by Prince Albert Board of Trade.

Dr. Rab asks the Board of Trade for agricultural possibilities in this district, and ideas about the amount of undeveloped farm land, the condition of soil as to productivity of crops and pasturage, the climate with reference to animals and crops, as well as general conditions.

He intends to help his brothers financially as much as he is able, and wants to obtain a site of about two or three thousand acres, not very far from a city. Dr. Rab thinks this land ought to bring return to those developing it in about fifteen or sixteen years.

"THESE HARD TIMES"

"The hard times and scarcity of money makes it more important than ever to economize. One way I save is in my wardrobe. I never wear faded or out-of-style dresses, coats, stockings, and underwear. For dyeing, or tinting, I always use Diamond Dyes. They are the most economical ones by far because they never fail to produce brilliant results. Why, things look better than new when redyed with Diamond Dyes. They never spot, streak, or run. They go on smoothly and evenly, when in the hands of even a ten year old child. Nothing, Diamond Dyes never take the life out of cloth or leave it limp as some dyes do. They deserve to be called 'the world's finest dye'."

Engineer Was Humane

Travelled Sixty Miles To Free a Trapped Dog

Engineer A. W. Paxson sat idly at the cabin window as the train roared past Bunker Hill in Indiana, thinking of little but the running of his huge locomotive.

Then he noticed in a barb wire fence that paralleled the railroad track, a bound dog struggling and unable to extricate its foot from the wire.

When the train arrived at Logansport, Paxson turned it over to another engineer, took an automobile and drove 30 miles to Bunker Hill to free the dog.

Simply a Parasite

Peddler Is Of No Assistance To Any Town

The peddler does nothing to support the town he enters. He leaves to others the matter of paying for the roads, the sidewalks, the water service, the lights, the fire protection, and various other services that must be maintained in any town. He does not assist in the maintenance of local schools, community organization, sports, relief or anything else essentially local. So far as the local community is concerned, he is simply a parasite.

Tells Dyspeptics

What To Eat

Strict Diets Often Unnecessary

It is a well known fact that some foods have a strong tendency to produce dyspepsia. Any one suffering from this condition, who is omitting from his diet those foods that are known to be "dyspeptic," will find that the diet is not at all tedious and unpalatable. Food should, however, in many instances, be slowly overcooked, and the stomach, indigestion, gas, etc., are due to excessive acidity and the premature souring of food in the stomach. Keep the stomach clean and sweet by treating it with the acids and then sufferers can eat the foods they like best and as much as they want in reason and have no stomach trouble at all. Thousands of people do this daily by merely taking after every meal a little Bilexated Magnesia. Bilexated Magnesia, instantly neutralizes the excess of acid, restores the normal and healthy digestive system, and insures a healthy and comfortable meal. Enjoy them both by making Bilexated Magnesia your daily after-eating precaution.

Orders have gone out to fix permanent ladders on the side of all upper berths on trains operating between New York and Washington. If the experiment is successful, all Pullman cars will be so equipped. The ladders are folded in the bedding compartment of the upper berth during the day.

Hopeful For Results

Great Britain To Send Imposing Delegation To Imperial Conference

The British Government hopes to send a formidable array of statesmen to Ottawa for the Imperial Economic Conference. Right Hon. Neville Chamberlain, Right Hon. J. H. Thomas, Right Hon. Walter Runciman and Right Hon. Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister are all likely to go, and the government is not only anxious to make the conference the most important ever held between the nations of the Empire, but also to achieve results which will endure for a long time.

The amount of preparatory work accomplished already is very great. At this time there is little likelihood of the conference failing because of lack of preparation. The views of the leading industrial organizations of Britain have been sought, suggestions have been invited from all quarters, and even the proposal of the trade unions for a permanent secretariat, which, during the years elapsing between conferences, would co-ordinate information—and suggestions, has been favorably received by the government and is likely to become effective.

The prestige which Britain has regained in the past few weeks in the eyes of the world will make the task easier at Ottawa. The prodigious efforts of the average British taxpayer in already bringing their reward, while the rush of foreigners to reinvest in sterling securities and even create sterling balances has so great that the banks are proceeding with considerable caution.

In this connection, it is suggested that the Bank of England does not want to see sterling rise too rapidly and that it has taken measures to discourage any such tendency. Apparently, financial authorities do not want a large amount of short term foreign holdings in sterling on the market, preferring steady appreciation of the value of sterling.

Meanwhile, Britain's repayment policy has aroused much admiration throughout Europe and even the French ambassador declares that it sets an example to the world and a lesson to other debtors—obviously referring to the German.

The government, however, is not encouraging extravagant hopes and is inclined to advise caution, although the activity on the stock exchange and the rise in the value of government securities show the country believes that the upward trend will definitely continue. When, therefore, Britain meets the nations at Lausanne in June for a settlement of reparations and again at Ottawa in July for the establishment of Imperial economic co-operation, she will be in an excellent position because she will be backed by all the prestige required in extricating herself from the financial morass.

See Chance For Canada

English Writer Thinks China Offers

"Not only now but at all times, China should be a wonderful market for Canadian products," Edward R. Skidgwick, London, England, writer, who arrived at Vancouver on the "Empress of Canada," states. "I cannot understand why Canada does not build up a big movement of canned goods, canned fruits, vegetables and the like, to China. I know millions of Chinese live on pennies in poverty, but there are other millions of Chinese who are fairly well-to-do, and who like foreign foods."

GOOD WORK OF BRITISH R. A. F. IS RECOUNTED

London, Eng.—For an hour Thursday afternoon, March 10, the House of Commons was illumined with the romance of high adventure.

Sir Philip Sassoon, under secretary for air, introduced the air estimates and they were no mere recital of votes and types of aircraft. One saw the Royal Air Force opening up new routes, lending a helping hand in the world's desolate places.

A lost touring car of the Egyptian state railways was discovered in the sand wastes of the Libyan Desert. A friendly hand was given to a district commissioner in the collection of taxes from unwilling semi-nomadic tribes. A case of appendicitis was conveyed 500 miles across the desert from Darfu to Khartoum. Water and supplies were taken to an African trade expedition stranded north of Wadiatifa, with only a small bottle of water between its members.

"Though reckoned by size alone the Royal Air Force still takes up fifth place in the air forces of the world, we have at least the satisfaction of knowing that no other air force is better equipped, and in no other air force is the standard of training and efficiency so high," said Sir Philip.

"But it is my plain duty to enter a warning that to maintain this standard we shall inevitably require in 1933 and future years substantially more money than the House is being asked to vote in these estimates."

The Royal Air Force estimates total 17,400,000 pounds, a decrease of 700,000 pounds.

In regard to civil aviation, Sir Philip said proposals were afoot to bring into operation in the near future, it was hoped—another 12,000 miles or more of Empire air routes. When these were opened the Empire would have more than 37,000 miles of organized air routes.

North Salmon Fisheries May Be Developed

On Account Of U.S. Senate Refusing To Ratify Treaty

Victoria, B.C.—As a result of further refusal of the Senate of the United States to ratify the treaty negotiated between Canada and the United States for the purpose of the preservation of the salmon fisheries of the Fraser River, British Columbia will urge upon Ottawa the complete obliteration of the salmon run of that river and the development of northern fisheries in place of it.

This was intimated in government circles here following announcement that the United States Senate was determined to take no action on the treaty at present.

Child Welfare Worker

Dr. Helen MacMurchy, Chief Of Department, M.B. Be Retired

Ottawa, Ont.—Dr. Helen MacMurchy, chief of the Department of Child Welfare in the Dominion Department of Health, and one of Canada's outstanding women, may be retired from service at the end of March. Along with several others, Dr. MacMurchy recently received notice of her retirement at the end of the month, with superannuation, in view of having reached the 60-year mark. Dr. MacMurchy was appointed chief of the child welfare branch at the time of its inception in 1919.

Preparing For Conference

Manufacturers In Canada Have Been Discussing Empire Trade

Toronto, Ont.—Preparatory work for the Imperial Economic Conference being held next July at Ottawa is proceeding in a promising manner. It was reported to the council of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in executive session here. Numerous meetings of groups of manufacturers have been held to discuss British Empire trade, particularly trade between Canada and Great Britain, and considerable information has been collected.

Millionaires In Britain

London, England—Great Britain has 540 "millionaires" according to the annual report of the inland revenue commissioners compiled on the basis of incomes exceeding £50,000 assessed for surtax last year. The report also stated there were 137 incomes exceeding £100,000 in the same period.

France Must Import Wheat

Placing Of A Fresh Duty On Canadian Grain Is Unlikely

Paris, France.—Reports that the French Government will place a fresh duty on Canadian wheat on the expiration of the Franco-Canadian trade treaty next June have no substantiation. It was learned the government has not reached any decision, and such action is described as very improbable.

It is pointed out France is bound to import wheat, as her own production is short, and duties would merely increase the cost of bread to the consumer without benefiting the domestic wheat producer. If any such action were taken it would have to be done under the so-called "padlock act" which authorizes the government to increase duties on certain products, mostly raw materials, including wheat, by decree without previous notice.

The ministry of agriculture put its force drastic restrictions on the importation of fresh fruits and live plants, which affect Canada among other countries. This however is a routine step to guard against the introduction of the parasite known as the "San Jose disease," which is of Californian origin.

Dr. Grisdale To Retire

Deputy Minister Of Agriculture Will Be Superannuated

Ottawa, Ont.—The superannuation of Dr. J. H. Grisdale as Deputy Minister of Agriculture was announced by Robert Weir, Minister of that Department. Dr. Grisdale suffered a breakdown in health about a week ago and as a result asked for his superannuation, which has been granted. He had been Deputy Minister since 1919.

In making the announcement the minister expressed regret that one who had been so long in the service should find it necessary to ask for his superannuation on account of illness, which, no doubt, had been due to his arduous duties in the department. Dr. Grisdale will receive six months' leave with pay as from April 1, after which the superannuation takes effect. No successor to Dr. Grisdale has yet been chosen.

Thousands Honor Briand

People Of All Classes Showed Appreciation For Dead Statesman

Paris, France.—More than 10,000 persons—porters, shopkeepers, students, and all intermediate ranks—lined through Aristide Briand's bedroom to do homage to the dead "Apostle of Peace."

By nightfall M. Briand's apartment was filled with flowers. These tributes ran all the way from an imposing place sent by the German ambassador to single carnations left there by midwives and wounded war veterans.

The family of the French statesman, who succumbed to a heart attack, was so touched by the genuineness of the affection shown him that the room was kept open two hours and forty minutes longer than had been planned.

U.S. Relief Measures

Forty Million Bushels Of Wheat Available For Humanitarian Purposes

Washington, D.C.—Within less than 24 hours after President Hoover had signed a bill making 40,000,000 bushels of the farm board's holdings available for humanitarian purposes, the Red Cross asked and received an allotment of 6,000,000 bushels.

From the board's elevators at Omaha, Nebraska, 14,000 bushels were immediately loaded into railroad cars and started for destinations in South Dakota where feed for livestock is needed.

Russian Force Doubled

Soviet Garrison In Siberia Has Been Greatly Increased

Tokyo, Japan.—The Japanese Consul at Khabarovsk, Siberia, reported to the foreign office that the Soviet garrison there approximately had doubled in the last month. Japanese authorities professed not to be alarmed, however, in spite of repeated reports of the sending of Soviet reinforcement troops in western Siberia. The war office estimated that the total Russian forces along the Usurri frontier now is 50,000.

National Relief Fund

Toronto, Ont.—Slightly more than $250,000 has been subscribed to date to the National Emergency Relief Fund, announced by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, last December, from Monmouthville, N.C., has stated. The total includes the amount raised on the Saskatchewan Emergency Distress Fund.

To Prevent Unemployment

Alberta Asks Federal Government To Adopt Jobless Insurance

Edmonton, Alberta.—Adoption of a national scheme of unemployment insurance was urged upon the Dominion Government in a resolution which was passed unanimously by the provincial legislature.

Moved by A. Simonsen, Labor, Lethbridge, the resolution read: "Resolved that this assembly, being of the opinion that the results of unemployment can only be properly and adequately prevented by a federal or national scheme of unemployment insurance acceptable to the provinces, urged the federal government, the immediate necessity of such legislation."

Ottawa, Ont.—The Dominion Government intends to carry out its promise to conduct an investigation into a contributory scheme of unemployment insurance with employers and workers participating. It was officially stated today in connection with a resolution passed in the Alberta legislature for a federal or national scheme of unemployment insurance.

Completes Long Journey

Winnipeg Man Hiked To Vancouver And Back

Winnipeg, Man.—Harry E. Sherman, the hardy hiker who set out for Vancouver from Winnipeg on June 13, 1931, has returned here after covering more than 3,800 miles on foot. Sherman walked the 1,579 miles to Vancouver in 49½ days but severe weather conditions and tired muscles slowed him considerably on the return journey and five months have elapsed since he left the Pacific Coast city on October 6. En route, he gave addresses at 503 schools.

EXPORT MARKET FOR GRAIN IS MUCH STRONGER

Fort William, Ont.—There is a more optimistic ring to the report issued by the statistical branch of the board of grain commissioners dealing with the movement of western Canadian grain during February. The international export market is readier to absorb more export grain, southern hemisphere wheat is being used up and the Canadian carryover is likely to be much smaller than last year. The report says in part:

"During the past month a decided improvement has taken place in the international wheat market and prospects for an increased export movement of Canadian wheat appear to be very good indeed. Both France and Italy have made substantial concessions by increasing the percentage of foreign wheat millers are permitted to grind, France to 25 per cent and Italy to 40 per cent. In northern regions respectively. Germany is reported to be in urgent need of more wheat besides the substantial quantities of rye which it has been obtaining from Russia."

"The exportable surplus of Danubian countries is reported as almost completely exhausted and there is little likelihood of much wheat being exported by Russia for some time. Supplies from the 1931 crops appear to be entirely inadequate for home requirements in certain regions and there is urgent need of considerable quantities for food and seed."

VISITS CANADA

Lord Irwin, former Viceroy of India, is coming to Canada in April to give the inaugural address in Toronto in connection with a permanent lectureship established by the Massey Foundation. The object of the "Massey Lectures" will be to bring to Canada from the Motherland annually someone of outstanding eminence in some sphere of activity.

Alberta Income Tax

Said To Be Less Draught Of Any Of The Western Provinces

Edmonton, Alberta.—Adoption of a provincial income tax is inevitable if Alberta is to balance its budget, declared Premier J. E. Brownlee in the legislature, in moving second reading of the new tax under which the government expects to raise $1,374,000. Alberta would have the least drastic income tax schedule of any of the western provinces, the premier declared. He also remarked that even with the new impost Alberta would compare favorably with Manitoba as the lowest taxed of any of the western provinces.

Criticism of the new taxation bill was made by F. H. White, Labor, Calgary, who said the tax encroached too much on the wages of single and married workers, and should be redrafted.

School Children Insured

Protection Against Accident For Students At Moose Jaw

Moose Jaw, Sas.—Moose Jaw now enjoys the unique position at the present time of being the first city in Canada and possibly on the North American continent to have an accident insurance policy covering school children.

A plan to cover students up to $100 expenses in case of accident was presented to the members of the school boards and adopted. The school boards, approximately one year ago, considered insurance plans for school children and at a recent meeting the members reaffirmed the stand they had taken at that time.

Easter Recess For Commons

Ottawa, Ont.—The House of Commons will adjourn from Wednesday evening, March 23, until the following Tuesday. Premier Bennett indicated that this was the Easter recess proposed by the government. W. L. Mackenzie King, opposition leader, said he thought this would be satisfactory to his followers.

Crop Failure In Russia

Forty Million Peasants Will Require Food Relief

Riga, Latvia.—Official reports from Moscow confirm that no fewer than 40,000,000 Russian peasants, affected by the failure of the harvest in various parts of Russia last fall, will require food relief.

The districts affected are the Urals, West Siberia, the middle and lower Volga basins, Bashkylia and the northern parts of the Caucasus. The combination of the shortage and the necessity of supplying these peasants with grain has radically interfered with the Soviet Government's spring sowing program.

In the Ukraine in particular the backwardness of preparations for the spring sowing is causing Moscow great anxiety. According to official reports, not more than half of the grain required for sowing is ready.

The despatch of 1,000,000 tons of grain to the distressed regions was decreed by Josef Stalin, Soviet dictator, last month, but the movement is proceeding slowly because the Soviet railways are unable to cope with the additional traffic. Another hampering factor is the reluctance of affected districts to relinquish grain which officials contend is stored up.

Manitoba Farm Loans Board

Increased Deficit Is Shown For Fiscal Year Ended April 30, 1931

Winnipeg, Man.—Deficit of the Manitoba Farm Loans Association increased from $168,874.15 to $1,022,203 during the fiscal year ended April 30, 1931, according to a report submitted to the legislature by the Manitoba Farm Loans Board along with an audit report of the association.

The report was the first made by the new board, which took over direction of the association's activities in 1930.

Operating expenses of $85,197.31 and writing off of $768,159.44 under the board's new policy, accounted for the greatly-increased deficit, it was explained.

In an explanation of the association's condition, the report found fault with previous operation of the association. "The scheme could not have been a complete success from the commencement," it remarks setting out that the margin between the cost of the money borrowed for the purpose of making loans and the rate of interest charged the farmer-borrower was insufficient.

VALERA ELECTED PRESIDENT OF IRISH FREE STATE

Dublin, Ireland.—Eamon de Valera was elected president of the Irish Free State, Wednesday, March 9, by a vote in the Dail Eireann of 81 to 68.

The ministry is wholly Finne-Fail—the De Valera party which, translated, means soldiers of destiny—and Labor, whose heavy vote will be needed to keep the De Valera government alive, was not represented.

The ministerial announcement was greeted with cheers from the galleries and from the Flanna Fianna benches. The government party, headed by former President William T. Cosgrave, had gone over to the benches allotted to the opposition, with Mr. Cosgrave occupying the seat so long filled by Mr. De Valera.

Voicing his opposition to the De Valera election, retiring President Cosgrave, declared: "I propose to give every opportunity to Mr. De Valera to develop his policy. We do not want an explanation policy; we want to see what he is going to do."

The De Valera victory never was in doubt: When the hall assembled after Catholic and Protestant religious services Mr. De Valera and Mr. Cosgrave knelt near one another during solemn mass—the Flanna Fianna put Frank Fahy in nomination for speaker. Mr. Fahy, one of the founders of the 1916 volunteers in South Galway, was elected 78 to 71.

Then the youthful Deputy Kilroy proposed Mr. De Valera for the presidency. The motion was seconded by Deputy Traynor and was given support by two independents whose votes had been doubtful, Deputies J. Dillon and O'Hanlon.

There was silence as the count was taken and then a burst of cheering when it was certain that Mr. De Valera had been selected. The hall then adjourned while Mr. De Valera called on Governor-General James McNeill for an interview, the nature of which was not divulged, and for the purpose of receiving his formal appointment.

THORNTON SAYS C. N. R. TRAFFIC IS NOT DIVERTED

Montreal, Que.—The following statement was issued by Sir Henry W. Thornton, president and chairman of the Canadian National Railways:

"From time to time there have been rumors to the effect, amongst other things, that the government had caused, by either direct or indirect methods, traffic to be diverted from the lines of the Canadian National Railways. These rumors are entirely without foundation, was the statement of the Canadian National authorities, and emphatically denies that anything of the sort has occurred."

"The present management of the Canadian National Railways has had approximately nine years' experience with the political parties, and in the opinion that the responsible leaders of both parties have no desire to prostitute the Canadian National Railways for political purposes. The management has supported and assisted those in authority in the pursuit of this laudable policy."

"In pursuit of economy the management, entirely of its own volition, has inaugurated a policy of progressively righting accounts, which was the only course open to it, but which, unhappily, has resulted, as must necessarily be the case, in restrictions in train service, reductions in forces together with hours of employment, and likewise reductions in rates of pay and remuneration."

"The only instrumentally responsible for these measures is the management itself, and that responsibility is unshakably accepted."

Saskatchewan Bonds

Twenty-Year Debentures Are Heavily Oversubscribed

Toronto, Ont.—An offering of $4,000,000 Provinces of Saskatchewan 20-year debentures was heavily oversubscribed on the domestic market. Managers of the strong syndicate of banks and investment houses which offered the bonds throughout the Dominion announced the books were closed with applications far greater than the debenture supply.

Six per cent sinking fund debentures, the price $94.45 and accrued interest, to yield 6.50 per cent, they are a direct obligation of Saskatchewan, and payable out of the consolidated funds of the province. Proceeds are to be used for refunding treasury bills originally issued for public works and improvements and other capital expenditures.

Demand for the bonds was heavy across the Dominion it was reported by the syndicate.

Premier Outlines Seed Plan

Federal Government Proposes Loan To Three Prairie Provinces

Ottawa, Ont.—The position which the Dominion Government has taken in respect to supplying seed and feed for farmers in the prairie provinces was outlined in the House of Commons by Premier R. B. Bennett.

In brief, the government proposed to advance the necessary monies by way of loans to the three prairie provinces. The provinces would give the Dominion their own treasury bills in return. In the case of the Province of Manitoba, Mr. Bennett stated that "something less than $700,000 would take care of requirements."

Back To the Garden

Gardening The Solution Of Present Day Ills Says University Professor

Vancouver, B.C.—"Back to the garden, rather than 'back to the land,'" is the solution of many of present day ills, said Dr. A. F. Barrs, Department of Horticulture, University of British Columbia, in an address before the Local Council of Women.

"Everyone hears the slogan, 'back to the land,' as being the cure of all economic ills," Dr. Barrs said. "This is not the solution for everyone. Rather let them say 'back to the garden,' for there a large majority may find comfort for the body and at the same time a cure for the soul."

Delay In Rail Report

Ottawa, Ont.—The report of a commission investigating Canada's transportation problems will not be able to present its report before the Easter recess. This was stated in the House of Commons by Premier R. B. Bennett. The Prime Minister explained that Lord Ashfield, the English member of the commission, had been detained by public business in England longer than he had expected. Mr. Bennett could not indicate when the report would be ready.
